FROM WASHINGTON.

A LETTER FULL OF INTEREST.

Vehicles at the Capital—President Cleveland's Home—Patent Office—Corcoran Art Gallery—National Observatory—The Garfield Memorial—Ford's Old Theater—Mrs. Patten, the Millionaire From Nevada—Mrs. General Logan at Her Home at Calomet Place.

WASHINGTON, April 13, 1887.
Editor Gazette:—Since my last letter Washington presents a new appearance. No longer does Spring sit in the lap of Winter. The sky is again clear, the trees begin to show signs of leafage, the lawns are covered with a beautiful green; the sun gives warmth to earth and air. One imagines that George Bancroft must have written on some such day as this the sentiment that Washington has more pleasant days than any other place in the world. Of course, this is sentiment only, as the great historian would know had he ever lived in the climate of Nevada. In the one month of March here there were more disagreeable days than there are in Nevada in 12 months. But to-day is charming, ideal weather. All Washington seems to be out on the streets this evening enjoying either the luxuries of a promenade or a carriage ride. To say carriage, however, gives but a faint idea of the vehicle used. There is probably on the continent no other city that uses so many kinds of pleasure vehicles. A cabman has just given me the names of twenty-two different kinds that may be seen any day on the streets. Some of these are the Herdic, Hanscom coupe, dog-cart, Gurney, Landeau, Berlin coach, Landoulet, standard cab, New York six-at barouche, vis-a-vis, cabriolet, T-cart, Surrey's brougham and English drag. One-horse single-seated carriages of whatever kind, with a driver, are hired at 75 cents per hour; two-horse double-seated carriages at $1.50 per hour. One person can ride a mile anywhere within the city for 25 cents in one of these single carriages. There is another kind of a herdic, a large long vehicle resembling a bus, in which a person may ride to any part of the city on its route for five cents. Tickets for this herdic are also good on any of the street cars. Washington, however, has no cable cars—nothing but the horse car, which, in the metropolis of the Pacific Coast, seems quite ancient. It is asserted, however, that cable cars will be running on the streets here within a year. A shall not attempt to give you a description of a week's doings, but will try to give you some idea of where I have been, and what I have seen within the past 48 hours. Night before last an ex-Confederate colonel and I drove out to Oak View, distant four miles from this (Metropolitan) hotel. In going we passed through Georgetown, returning by the Rock Creek road. The occasion of our ride in that direction was a visit to President

Cleveland's rural home at Oak View, about which just now so much is said. There is no house within about a half mile of the President's. This or is frequently the case, this pleasant weather, the President and Mrs. Cleveland were spending the evening there. The house is two-story, stone, of peculiar architecture, but in no way especially more attractive than are the other houses in that neighborhood. The original price paid for the house and farm by the President I believe was $5,000. Since its purchase, however, there have been made a great many expensive improvements. In this rural retreat, without soldiers or guards—in what striking contrast to that of the Czar of the Russian Empire in the mode of life of the Chief Executive of our Republic.

Yesterday forenoon visited the Patent Office. Found there thousands of models of every known invention from a pin to a Corliss engine. On the models I found the names of several well-known citizens of Nevada. Simply to commence to describe their models and the various rooms would take a book, so I shall not commence. In the afternoon, in company with an excellent judge of art, I visited the Corcoran Art Gallery. The buildings and ground cost $250,000, owned by the great philanthropist, W.

W. Corcoran, was given to the city in 1869. One of the latest additions to the collection is "The Wood Gathers," a comparatively small painting valued at $15,000.

Last evening a party of three of us visited the National Observatory and took a look through the telescope. We were shown the double star Castor and Pollux, and Saturn. The new telescope, of which so much is written, cost $50,000, yet in size and value it is said to be very inferior in comparison with the telescope soon to be placed on Mount Hamilton, California. It is only on Tuesday evenings of each week that visitors are permitted to look through the telescope, and then only a limited number. Before I made application the full number of permits had been granted, and the only reason I was favored was because I came from the "Far West" and couldn't be present on any other Tuesday evening.

This morning I went to the Pennsylvania Depot, about a block away from the hotel, to bid good-bye to Senator Stewart, who left for the Pennsylvania Central for Duluth and Nevada. In the ladies' sitting room, about five feet from the floor on the wall, there is a slab of marble two feet square, appropriately and artistically carved. In the center is inscribed "James A. Garfield, President of the United States, July 2, 1881." Two feet from the wall and in front of this memorial on the floor is a brass star which marks the spot where Garfield fell after being shot by Guileau.

Later in the morning I visited the National Medical Museum on Tenth street, above Pennsylvania Avenue. This building was once a Baptist Church; in the early part of the last war it was converted into a theater, and known as Ford's Theater throughout the country. It was there April 14, 1865—twenty-two years ago to-morrow night—that John Wilkes Booth shot President Lincoln. It will be recollected that after the fatal shot by the assassin Lincoln was carried to a house just across the street, where he died the following day. The house is a four-story brick, painted red, with a plain front. Placed within the wall of the second story is a slab of marble 15 inches square, on which is inscribed "President A. Lincoln died in this house April 15, 1865." In the Museum are a thousand things of interest. It is claimed even by the papers of this city that Guileau's articulated skeleton is on exhibition there, but this the man denies. He did intimate, however, that it would be there soon. However, Guileau's bust, as he looked before he was hung and just after, can be seen; also, two of the cervical vertebrae of Wilkes Booth, showing where he was shot when taken prisoner; vertebrae from the spinal column of General Bradstreet, who was killed in the French and Indian war; the shattered bones of the leg of General Sickles, who was wounded at Gettysburg; and various similar relics, besides the various parts of the body, tumors and other abnormal growths preserved in alcohol. This afternoon in the best Landeau I could find started out to make some calls. My first was a call on Mrs. Patten, the millionaire, formerly of Gold Hill. Mr. Patten was a mining man, at one time a partner of Senator Jones in mines in Gold Hill, where he accumulated his fortune. Mrs. Patten's mansion is on Massachusetts Avenue, only a block or so from the mansion of Senator Stewart and that of James G. Blaine. In some respects it resembles Blaine's house, but I think it is superior in architecture and much more home-like. The house is worth probably $150,000. Mrs. Patten does not forget her Nevada friends, but always inquires after them; she is hospitable and a generous entertainer, besides she is a most capable business woman. Since her husband's death, although having spent nine years in Europe, she has added materially to her fortune in speculations. A few days ago she sold a villa in the vicinity of Oak View for $105,000, which, about a month before, cost but $50,000. The next call was at Mrs. John A. Logan's at her home at Calomet place, located out in the direction of the Soldiers' Home, and about two and a half miles from the Capitol. The place is quite in the country, and includes several acres of land. The house is a two-story brick, with delightful surroundings. At the door I sent in my card by the porter, and at once was ushered into the parlor. And such an interesting parlor! Exquisite art is manifest in every part of it. The tables are loaded down with valuable presents of great number and variety. The familiar face of the General is here in photograph, bust, medallion, crayon and painting. Several regimental flags, of which the General was the proud owner, were there; scrolls on which were inscribed resolutions commemorating military honors achieved, and other scrolls on which in her great sorrow Mrs. Logan received the sympathies of various organizations devotedly attached to the General and herself. In a few moments Mrs. Logan replied in person to my card. As she came into the parlor tears commenced to stream down her face. It seemed to me that I could read in her expression that the whole trip through the West last Summer was brought fresh to her mind. When she said that while she was in Nevada she little thought that she so soon would be brought to such grief I knew I read her aright. As I sat there and saw the grandest character among American women sob as if her heart would break, it was with a struggle that I could keep back my own tears. Poor Mrs. Logan; I shall never forget that interview. I shall not attempt to repeat the many good and truthful things she said of her late husband as an honest, zealous and true man; of his struggles and how they had just gotten ready to enjoy life when so suddenly he was taken away. She said that the General was temporarily placed in Hutchinson's vault in the cemetery here and asked me if I wouldn't go out there before I left the city for the West. This I shall certainly do. The Legislature of Illinois has recently appropriated $50,000 for a monument to her distinguished citizen, to be erected in one of the parks of Chicago, and as soon as completed his remains will be taken there for final interment. It is understood that Mrs. Logan's final resting place will be beside her husband. Mrs. Logan asked about many people in Nevada, and seemed very appreciative when I presented sympathy and kind regards from some of her Nevada friends. My call was accepted as representative of a people in a section of the West that could not bestow too much honor upon the great hero and statesman, and who admire Mrs. Logan as they do no other woman in America. Wish I could give an adequate description of the simplicity of her manners yet grandeur of character as exhibited by Mrs. Logan in this conversation at her home at Calomet Place, but words fail me. Remarkable woman! As long as she lives she will continue to be the idol of the American people. This evening I called at Senator Dolph's, at No. 8 Lafayette square, spending a pleasant hour there. There were other business and pleasure calls which I have made within the past few days, but I have described only those in which I hoped and believed your readers would be interested.

A new style of getting up entertainments has been instituted by Queen Victoria, which, if it becomes generally fashionable, will take a load off many people who would be glad to entertain their friends with "swell" dinners if they could afford it. At a grand banquet to be given by the Queen to the Knights of St. Michael and St. George in honor of her jubilee, the invitations convey the notification that each knight will be expected to pay for his own dinner. When a rich woman like Victoria gives State banquets in such an economical fashion, others of lesser rank will be most glad to follow suit. So next season the frequenters of high teas, grand dinners and gorgeous luncheons can indulge themselves in having enough to eat by paying for it themselves. At this Queen's banquet the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Cambridge are to preside. This honor, of course, will be included in the price per plate. Considering that a jubilee only comes once in fifty years, it might have been thought that the Queen could for once have launched out and "set it up right royally." Still she may have the intention of pointing the moral that it is English, you know, to have a "Dutch treat."

The intelligence that the Czar has become so profoundly impressed by the dangers of the Bulgarian situation that he is pacifically ready to name a candidate for the throne of that country, is highly interesting. The statement that the Czar is ready to let some other than Alexander III, of Russia, govern Bulgaria, is important if it could be relied upon; but it cannot. The dangers which threaten Europe from the unprecedented spectacle of the Bulgarians governing themselves are no doubt the most urgent ones in the eyes of the imperial monarchs. Beyond that the most dangerous feature of the situation is the apprehension of the other European powers that the Czar would snap up Bulgaria at some unguarded moment. Whether that apprehension will be more than modified by the news that the Czar will consent to put a puppet of his own in charge is more than doubtful. If the Czar really wishes to insure peace on the Bulgarian question, why might he not try the experiment of telling the Bulgarians to govern themselves and telling all the other powers that they and he will keep their hands off that country.

A representative of the New York Mail and Express at Chicago learns, upon unquestionable authority, that for the purpose of making a test case which will define certain clauses of the Inter-State Commerce law, the General Passenger Agent of an important road has promised to give special rates to the manager of a noted amusement company for the transportation of his people and baggage. As the penalty for the offense is imprisonment for both parties, and both are willing to risk it in the interest of a legal interpretation upon the clauses which may give ground for subsequent appeals and constructions, the result may be an important one.

When it is learned that Senator Maxey has joined Judge Reagan in supporting the prohibition cause, it may begin to dawn upon the general public that the men who are accustomed to observe how the cat jumps think that the prohibition cause is beginning to get quite strong in the Lone Star State.

The news that the bidding for the Regent diamond, shortly to be sold by France, will be confined to "Queen Victoria, Adalina Patti and Mrs. John W. Mackay," leaves the mournful impression that our old friends, the hotel clerks, are shut out on account of the Inter-State Commerce law.

Women Counterfeiters.
NEW YORK, April 25.
The U. S. Secret Service officers, late last Saturday night, arrested two women named Mrs. Annie Kelly and Miss Ellen Barrett, who have been engaged in counterfeiting silver coins for a number of months at 267 East 11th street. The officers caught the women at their work and captured their plaster of paris moulds and 168 counterfeit dollars. The Kelly woman is the wife of the notorious George Kelly, the counterfeiter, who is supposed to be in Paris. The Barrett woman is 21 years old, and Mrs. Kelly's sister. When arraigned before the U. S. Commission to-day, Mrs. Kelly said she had been "making counterfeit coin for months, and had been showing them among the Italians." She has two children, a boy three, and a girl 12 years old. The Commissioner held them in $5,000 bail each for an examination.

A Prospect of Lynching.
LOUISVILLE, April 25.
The revolting details of the confession of the negro, Albert Turner, in the case of the girl Jennie Bowman, who was so brutally assaulted by a negro burglar at midday last Thursday, has aroused the indignation of the community to a degree unparalleled in its history. Turner's confession implicates another negro named Patterson, who has been arrested on suspicion, and the authorities have taken him to Frankfort in order to escape the mob. So terribly incensed are the people, that there is danger of the mob proceeding to Frankfort and lynching him there. When Turner identified Patterson at the Frankfort prison last night, the latter made a spring at his throat and endeavored to choke him to death. It took five or six men to part the negroes. The proof against them is overwhelming and conclusive.

The Sharp Bribery Case.
NEW YORK, April 25.
The Oyer and Terminer court-room was crowded this morning with people assembled to see the first act in the drama of the trial of Jacob Sharp. Judge Van Brunt was on the bench, and District Attorney Martin represented the people. Sharp, fresh shaven and with hair neatly combed down, occupied the prisoner's chair. Martin said that Sharp, with several others, had been indicted on 21 counts for bribery, and although this had been known to the defendant since last October, yet he was willing to allow him further reasonable time for preparation. He would move for a trial on one of the indictments on Monday next. The court finally set May 11th as the date for the trial, and a motion to quash the indictments will be heard next Friday.

Condemned Murderers.
SANTA FE, N. M., April 25.
Governor Ross signed the death warrants of James Anderson and Theodore Baker, two of the four condemned murderers now in the Territorial Penitentiary. Anderson will be executed at Socorro and Baker at Springer next Friday. Thomasson and O'Donnell, the remaining two, have been respited for two weeks, until the Governor can consider their cases. A very strong effort has been made to have Thomasson's sentence commuted to life imprisonment.

Stanley Heard From.
BRUSSELS, April 25.
Advices from the Stanley expedition for the relief of Emin Bey, have been received from Watadi, on the Congo river, dated March 25. From these it is learned that the steamer which carried Stanley from Zanzibar was unable to ascend the Congo, and the entire expedition landed at Banans Point and re-embarked March 18 aboard a vessel belonging to the International Association, which was awaiting the expedition. The next day the expedition arrived at Boma, the seat of the general administration of the Congo free States. Stanley was confident of the success of his enterprise, and hoped by June he would be able to render effectual assistance to Emin Bey. From Stanley Pool, Stanley hoped to march rapidly and to surprise the enemies hedging Emin Bey. The expedition left Boma on March 21st and arrived at Watadi on the 22d, and there disembarked, the river being unnavigable thence to Leopoldville. The expedition was to proceed on foot for eighteen days along the falls, and expected to reach Leopoldville by April 10th, where Stanley was to be met by four steamers belonging to the Congo States.

WESTERN DISPATCHES

A Fearful Railroad Accident.
SPOKANE FALLS, W. T., April 25.
It has just been learned that on Thursday afternoon a terrible accident occurred on the Cascade division of the Northern Pacific four miles beyond Chelum. A west-bound train, pushing a flat car loaded with laborers was going around a curve, leading to a trestle, at a good rate of speed, when it ran into a bog engine which was going east. The flat-car passed half way through the tender and crushed up against the pilot of the west-bound train on which were two men who were crushed to pulp, only a foot and one half being left by which to identify them. The bog engine was knocked 80 feet; five men were killed outright and one has since died. The injured number 18. All of the physicians of Ellensburg were immediately sent to the front by a special train, and are rendering every assistance possible. The scene of the accident as described by these present, beggars description; blood is seen everywhere in every direction, and the neighboring rock bear evidence of the fearful carnage. The accident was the fault of one of the trains' crew neglecting to flag as per orders. The dead and injured were brought to Chelum Thursday night.

Overland Freight Rates.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.
The officials of the Southern Pacific state that they are pleased with the action of the Inter-State Commission, but they could not as yet say what effect the action would have upon their freight rates. In speaking of the subject, one of the officials said: "This particular section of the long and short clause of the Inter-State Act was the cause of the heavy advance in the overland through freights, and the suspension will of course redound to the benefit of shippers. Prior to April 1st, we were obliged to make an entire new freight schedule to comply with the new law, but whether we will carry freight at the old rate, is something that will not be determined for a few days at least. Without speaking authoritatively or in behalf of the company, I am inclined to think the old rates will be adopted at once."

Blowing Up Hell Gate.
Has been a laborious and costly work, but the end justifies the effort. Obstruction in any important channel means disaster. Obstructions in the organs of the human body bring invisible disease. They must be cleared away, or physical wreck will follow. Keep the liver in order, and the pure blood courses through the body, conveying life, strength and life; let it become diseased, and the channels are clogged with impurities which result in disease and death. No other medicine equals Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" for setting upon the liver and purifying the blood.
—The Proper Study of Manhood is Man.
Says the illustrious Pope. If he had included woman in the list, he would have been nearer the truth, if not so poetical. Dr. R. V. Pierce has made them both a life study, especially woman, and the peculiar derangements to which her delicate system is liable. Many women in the land who are acquainted with Dr. Pierce only through his "Favorite Prescription," bless him with all their hearts, for he has brought them the panacea for all those chronic ailments peculiar to their sex, such as leucorrhoea, prolapsus and other displacements, ulceration, "internal fever," bloating, tendency to internal cancer and other ailments. Price reduced to one dollar. By druggists.

No Trouble to Swallow
Dr. Pierce's "Felix" (the original "little liver pill") and to pain or griping. Cure sick or bilious headache, sour stomach and cleanse the system and bowels. 25 cts. a vial.
GROUP, WHOOPING COUGH and Bronchitis immediately relieved by Shiloh's Cure, sold by Osburn & Shoemaker

Astonishing Success.
It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing consumption, severe coughs, croup, asthma, pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case and we consider it the duty of all druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 50,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all druggists and dealers in the United States and Canada.

Thousands of Dollars
Are spent every year by the people of this State for worthless medicines for the cure of throat and lung diseases, when we know that if they would only invest $1 in SANTA ABIE, the new California discovery for consumption and kindred complaints, they would in this pleasant remedy find relief. It is recommended by ministers, physicians and public speakers of the Golden State. Sold and guaranteed by Osburn & Shoemaker, Reno, Nev., at $1 a bottle. Three for $2 50. The most stubborn case of croup will speedily succumb to CALIFORNIA CAT-RE-CURE. Six months' treatment for $1. By mail $1 10.

Happiness and Health.
Are important problems, the former depending greatly on the latter. Everyone is familiar with the healthy properties of fruit, and no one can afford to be sick and miserable while the pleasant California concentrate, liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, may be had of our enterprising druggist, Wm. Pinniger, Reno, Nev.

LOCAL NEWS.

Happenings of the Day in Reno and Vicinity.

Entertainment at Lovelock.

Editor Gazette:—A very enjoyable entertainment took place here last night. It was under the management of the Misses Ash and Marsden. The two pieces, "The Lovely Bonnet," and "The Precious Pickle," were given very creditably, and the tableau, in which Miss Ash was the principal figure, was the feature of the evening. A very pretty booth, where lemonade and ice cream were served, was presided over by Mrs. Ebons. The same lady presented a guess cake, which was won by Miss Ash. A Mrs. Carlos, of San Francisco, sang very prettily a darkey song, and Finley Cook and Dr. Moore, of Reno, rendered solos that were loudly applauded. I never before saw such an abundance of California flowers in Lovelock as on this occasion. A SPECTATOR.

LOVELOCK, Nev., April 24.

Another Pioneer at Rest.

E. D. Vanderleith, of Eureka, passed through Reno on Saturday night's overland express for Sacramento, Cal., where he went to take charge of the remains of his father, Jacob E. Vanderleith, who fell dead there last Friday from heart disease. The remains were to have been buried in a San Francisco cemetery yesterday. Deceased was born in Hanover, Prussia, in 1823. He came to this coast in the early fifties and resided since 1870 in Eureka, where he leaves a wife, son and daughter. He was a man of sterling qualities and highly respected.

Fine Honey.

We received yesterday from E. A. Moore of this place a sample of extracted honey and honey in the comb which is by all odds the finest honey we ever had the pleasure of eating. This is Nevada honey and parties wishing the article can do no better than by getting their honey from Mr. Moore. This is not preliminary to an advertisement nor honeyed words, we mean what we say, and most warmly recommend this article to the honey loving public.

More Nevadans for Los Angeles.

Mrs. John Bennetts and two children, for several years residents of Gold Hill, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. Folsom on Ralston street. Some ten days ago Mr. Bennetts went to Los Angeles, there to accept a position in Wells, Fargo & Co.'s office. Mrs. Bennetts and children expect to leave in a day or two for the City of Angels, there to join him and take up their future residence.

Flowers of Spring.

J. W. Kimball, agent for the Bell Conservatory, Sacramento, Cal., will be in Reno the 27th instant with a stock of flowers and plant which he will have on private sale for a few days. Parties desiring plants and flowers will do well to call and inspect this stock.

A Good Appointment.

The Lyon County Times says the vacancy created in the C. & C. R. R. office at Dayton, by the resignation of W. H. M. Cobb, will be filled by Wallace Coffin, of the Mound House.

A Remarkable Contest.

A queer fight has been going on for some weeks past between the Last Chance Ditch Company, of Grangeville, Tulare county, Cal., and the authorities of the grant of Poly, Heilbron & Co. The ditch company has been trying to get more water by taking a stream out of Cold slough, belonging to the grant. Seven men were arrested and taken to Visalia for trial, but were acquitted. Since that a gang of men has been kept at work by the ditch company trying to divert the water and an opposing gang from the grant has been on the ground to undo the work of the ditch company. When the latter puts in a scrapful of dirt the opposing gang will take it out. Both cook over the same campfire and drink from the same jug.

Too Much Competition.

It is said that the time has practically passed when flats will pay in New York, excepting those with which large restaurants are connected and which combine the features of hotel and flat life, and those in the very fashionable Fifth avenue neighborhood. The reason assigned is too much competition among the landlords and unreasonable demands on the part of the tenants.

A Graveyard of Her Own.

Mrs. Harriet Jones of Wallingford, Conn., who is 75 years old, has raised a family of fifteen children and had six husbands, three of her weddings having occurred after she had passed her 60th birthday.

No, Thank You.

Reno has the dirtiest bridge in four counties.—GAZETTE. And Carson has the dirtiest political clique on earth. How would you like to trade?—Union.

A Narrow Escape.

The four-year-old daughter of Assemblyman Springmeyer, of Douglas county, narrowly escaped death by eating some poisonous parsnips recently.

A Complete Success.

The Lyon County Times of the 23d inst. says: The first retort, since the introduction of the electric system into the Douglas mill was gotten out yesterday. The result more than verifies the expectations of the most sanguine. The bullion production has been about doubled. The fineness of the bullion has been increased, reducing the expense of retorting and refining. The quicksilver return shows that at least 85 per cent. of the usual loss has been recovered. Success has now been established beyond the possibility of a doubt. It has also been demonstrated that the stock of quicksilver necessary to carry on the mill may be reduced about one third. It has also been demonstrated that the amount of copper solution may be materially decreased. Settler samples that formerly assayed as high as $3 17 per ton, have been reduced to $1 31 per ton, with prospects of still further reduction. The quicksilver return can not be given accurately, but it is known that it will not fall below the 85 per cent. mentioned, and may go much higher.

The Sunny Slope Ranch.

The English company which purchased L. J. Rose's Sunny Slope ranch near Los Angeles, have issued a prospectus, which states that the price of the property was $160,000 in cash and $150,000 in ordinary shares. The property will be capitalized to the amount of $340,000, $140,000 being in preferred stock and $200,000 in ordinary shares. The estimated income of the property is $35,000. According to the terms of sale, Mr. Rose undertakes to personally superintend the business for one year.

A. P. Clark an Old Offender.

It is now said that A. P. Clark, recently arrested at Victoria for embezzling money from his former employer, Elie Eilen, of Truckee, got away with $10,000 of Mr. Eilen's money. Detective Morse, of San Francisco, believes Clark to be an old offender, and that his real name is Harry E. Connors, formerly connected with a San Francisco variety troupe.

A Woman in It.

Frankie Whitcombe, who sailed for Victoria with Clark, the defaulting Truckee clerk, said to a friend: "I've got a sucker on a string who got away with $7,000 from a Truckee mill-owner and gone to Victoria. He has sent me $200 and I am going to him."

A Desperate Duel.

The dead bodies of two men with hunting knives grasped in their hands and their flesh cut in shreds, were found near Fort Washakie, Wyoming, by cowboys recently.

Unveiling an Indian Idol.

A rock, which the Sioux Indians near Fort Yates, D. T., have worshipped for generations as the petrified form of a young squaw, was formally unveiled the other day and dedicated to peace and plenty. It appears that the white settlers in the vicinity have long supposed that this specimen of Nature's art work exerted a restraining influence on the Indians, but of late the rock has been removed from its original resting-place, and it was feared that with its removal its charm had disappeared. So the suggestion was made to Sittling Bull that the statue be placed upon a permanent pedestal and unveiled with appropriate ceremonies. This pleased the chieftain, and 5,000 Indians assembled to take part in the strange medley of Christian and Pagan rites by which the unveiling was accompanied.

Robinson, Druggist and Apothecary, Bangor, Me., in a letter dated July 1, 1887, says: "I have had many prescriptions for Gilmore's Aromatic Wine from one of our best physicians, who learned of its virtues from those who had used it." No remedy ever produced has met with such marked favor from the medical profession. The Company cheerfully furnish any physician a sample of their Aromatic Wine, and not one of the many hundreds who have given it an examination has ever failed to endorse it as a valuable and reliable remedy. SOMETHING NEW.

More than two-thirds of the Expense of putting up and Feeding Hay Saved by CLIMAX RAKE, CLIMAX LOADER, CLIMAX STACKER, CLIMAX HAY RACK, with attachments for unloading into feed racks.

FOR HANDLING HAY OR GRAIN, the Climax Machines excel all others by great odds. Each and all of these inventions are warranted to do all claimed for them. They are no experiment, but HAVE BEEN TRIED AND TESTED by the actual work of hundreds, and received the unqualified endorsement of all.

This is to certify that last season we used the Climax Stacker in putting up 1500 tons of hay, mostly blue joint; that it did its work well, and in my estimation is not equalled by any stacker or hay-lifting appliance on this coast.
